

The Youth, Prosperity, and Security Initiative, a partnership between the International Youth Foundation (IYF) and the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), is launching the Global Millennial Viewpoint Series. These events will present results from a survey of thousands of youth ages 16 to 24 across 30 countries. The survey and event series are made possible by Hilton.

Covering four distinct topics, the briefings offer a unique opportunity to gain insight into youth perspectives on security, governance, economics, work, education, health, civic participation, and values.
